GET YOUR FASHION FIX WITH MARK HEYES AND ANDREW BARTON AT BRISTOL FASHION WEEK

Calling all fashionistas - Bristol Fashion Week, the city's biggest fashion and beauty event, returns to The Mall at Cribbs Causeway from Thursday 25th to Sunday 28th March.

This four-day celebration of spring and summer style mixes spectacular fashion shows with free pampering treats and is the perfect springboard to looking good all summer long.

Top TV fashion stylist Mark Heyes and celebrity hairdresser Andrew Barton are returning to The Mall to host the hour-long fashion shows which preview all the key trends for spring/summer.

Tickets cost from just £8.50 and are available from mallcribbs.com or The Mall's Information Desk.

Mark Heyes says: "Thousands of fashion-savvy ladies return year after year, so if you've not been before, then come and join us for a fun-filled hour of catwalk fashion."

As well as the fashion shows, shoppers can also enjoy free cosmetic make-overs, mini-manicures, massages, hair advice and styling by SAKS and even free colour consultations to find out what colours work best for them.

Models ranging from size 10 to 14 will showcase over 700 different outfits from a wide variety of stores at The Mall. They include 27 year old Charlotte Edwards who grew up in Weston-super-Mare and is appearing in Bristol Fashion Week for the first time.

Charlotte's modelling career began when her Mum entered her into a magazine modelling competition when she was 15. She was invited to London to take part in a shoot with 11 other girls and won the competition. The prize was a leading shampoo brand commercial which launched her career. Charlotte has since appeared in TV commercials, magazine shoots and on the catwalk for designers Jil Sander and Alberta Ferretti as well as top fashion retailers including Jigsaw, which has a store at The Mall at Cribbs Causeway.

“I always enjoy London Fashion Week and think it’s fantastic that my home city has its own major fashion event,” says Charlotte. “And to take part in it for the first time will be great - I’m really looking forward to it.”
