Water Zorbing in The Mall's British Summertime Garden

Ever wanted to try the latest craze of water zorbing? Now you can at The Mall at Cribbs Causeway's British Summertime event.

For just £5 a go, climb inside a large transparent Waterwalkerz ball and experience the sensation of walking on water as you roll across an outdoor inflatable pool. It's harder than you think but great fun! The water zorbing will run over six consecutive weekends, starting Saturday 23rd July until Sunday 28th August.

If that all sounds too energetic for you, then kick back and relax in a traditional stripy deckchair in The Mall's British Summertime garden, where you can listen to live music, play giant garden chess and Connect 4 and admire The Mall's new garden sculpture, Telula the Gorilla, part of Bristol Zoo's Wow! Gorillas sculpture art trail.

The Mall likes to do things with style and ice-cream doesn't come more stylish than the Splitscreen Icecream Company. Their seriously cool vintage VW van - called Mimi - will be at The Mall between 12 noon and 3pm on selected days, serving mouth-watering Marshfield Farm ice-creams.

The British Summertime garden is open daily. Live music and ice cream available on selected dates - visit mallcribbs.com for more details.
